

PUBLIC DAILY LEDGER

FOURTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1895.

ONE CENT.

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can lose over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls

upon THE LEDGER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppers,

excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, resolutions of respect, &c., THE LEDGER will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however.

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Local in THE LEDGER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a five-line local inserted in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—32 times; the bill is $16. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed probably by an icy feeling. Now, to obviate this trouble, no "till told" notices will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

HERE'S A CHANCE.

Pennsylvania Parties Propose a Steel Plant in Maysville.

Dr. H. K. Adamson has a letter from a prominent professional friend living in Pittsburgh, in which the writer refers to parties who are desirous of locating a large steel plant in Maysville if proper inducements are offered.

Establishments of this sort have been encouraged to locate in live localities by subscriptions of from $20,000 to $40,000; but it is not given out how much would be expected in this case.

The letter has been placed in the hands of an enterprising citizen for reply, and it is sincerely hoped that something may come of it.

The plant will employ 150 men, and this would mean at least 100 additional families in Maysville.

A weekly payroll of not less than $15,000.

Fully $10,000 of which would go into the hands of Maysville merchants each week.

Think it over, ye men of enterprise and means.

DEMORALIZED DEMOCRACY.

Hon. C. M. Clay, Jr., and 58 Others at the Courthouse.

They're demoralized!

The time was—and not very many years since—when the announcement that a Democratic candidate for Governor would speak at the Courthouse in this city would have filled that ramshackle to its uttermost.

The coming of the Hon. C. M. Clay, Jr., who wants to govern Kentucky according to the mossback plan, was heralded for several days by handbills and notices in the Democratic harpsichord organiamento.

And at 2:30 yesterday afternoon THE LEDGER man dropped into the auditorium of the Temple of Justice.

There was no difficulty in finding a seat.

But there was some difficulty in finding the audience—and less difficulty in counting those who composed it.

Mr. Clay was speaking some minutes, and the crowd was at its maximum. By actual count there were 92 present, one for each card in the deck—the speaker being the "joker."

It is proper to state that the editor of the Democratic organ went to make up the 52; but soon after Johnny Love left and then there were only 51.

A little later Hal Curran and THE LEDGER man withdrew, and if the remaining Republicans had followed suit it would have broken up the meeting.

Boys, you're busted!

Mr. J. J. Fitzgerald and Miss Agnes Kain will be married next month.

Rev. Father Gorey has resigned as Pastor of the Catholic Church at Frankfort, and will likely be succeeded by Rev. Father Young.

There came very near being a disastrous freight wreck in the Fifth Ward yesterday evening about 6:30 between a C. and O. through freight, Eastbound, and the Westbound local freight.

Dr. James H. Cochran of this city, who has been practicing his profession in Baltimore, has been placed in charge of McKeesport Hospital, McKeesport, Pa. The Doctor is to be congratulated on his preferment for such a responsible position, and his many friends here will be glad to hear of his success.

J. W. Weatherford of Covington, a local freight brakeman on the C. and O., met with an accident yesterday afternoon at the depot in this city that cost him a finger, if not more. He was coupling cars, when his right hand was caught between the coupling pin and drawhead, mashing one finger so bad that amputation was necessary, and severely crushing his hand. He was taken to the office of Dr. John A. Reed, and he, assisted by Dr. H. K. Adamson, performed the operation. He was taken to Covington on the Cincinnati Local at 5 p. m.

IT'S SMALLPOX SURE!

DR. H. K. ADAMSON SAYS IT'S A "BEAUTY" THAT CHARLES TRAVIS HAS.

It's genuine!

THE LEDGER yesterday reported a case of smallpox on the farm of Colonel John Peters, near Bernard.

It was stated also that Dr. H. K. Adamson went out yesterday to see the case.

The Doctor returned yesterday afternoon, and he informs THE LEDGER that it's a genuine case—a "beauty" in fact.

The patient is Charles Travis, who formerly lived on Front street near Grave alley, but who subsequently went on the river, and who a week or so ago took up his residence on the farm of Mr. Peters. His dwelling is about three-fourths of a mile from any other habitation, and sleeping in the house with him when the disease broke out were his wife and eight children, besides three other persons.

A day or two since the three others went to the farm of Captain James Davis, and when the Doctor returned to the city yesterday he notified Judge Hutchins to send an officer after them and have them returned to the Travis home.

Meanwhile, there is no need of a panic; but everyone should be vaccinated at once.

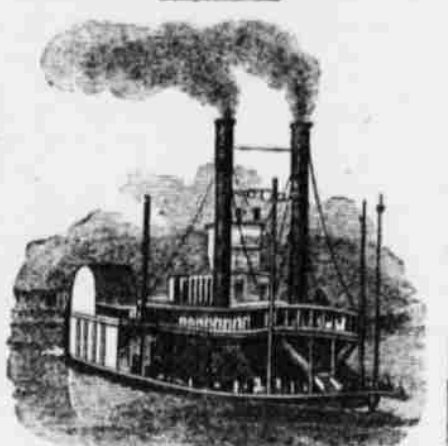

An ounce of prevention is worth two and a half tons of cure.

Dover has several curiosities in the shape of some farmers. The "Dover News" says, "Many farmers are plowing over the river." Well, well, well, we say nit.

RIVER NEWS.

Numerous Items of Interest Found Floating on the Current.

The Ruth is due down tonight for Cincinnati.

The gauge at 7:30 a. m. registered 20 feet and rising.

The new ferry boat at Calletsburg began business yesterday.

The St. Lawrence will make things hum from Pomeroy down tonight.

The Keystone State passed up last night for Pittsburgh with a fair trip.

The Hudson will pass down this afternoon from Pittsburgh for Cincinnati.

The Bonanza will take care of all trade intended for Pomeroy and way points to night.

A good stage of water is now on in the Ohio, and a good season of navigation now looked for.

The Kanawha river is still falling slowly, but a good stage still prevails, and coal is still leaving the mines.

A stay of execution has been granted Captain Morris of the Henry M. Stanley. The owners of that boat intend to appeal the case.

Nearly all the cities along the Ohio are now keeping close watch on the shanty-boats, as recent developments have shown it to be a wise precaution.

The banks of the river near Point Pleasant and the Big Sandy are lined with timber, and more now lies at these points than has ever been known before.

The river is again falling at Pittsburgh, but another rise is looked for in a few days, as the continued warm spell at headwaters will have a tendency to swell the river again.

Colored deckhands claim they can still hear the distress signals given by the Minnie Bay when she was sinking near Moscow eight years ago if they happen along there about the hour when the accident occurred.

A great injustice was done the officers of the Hudson and the Pittsburgh Packet Company by a report that two cases of smallpox were taken off the boat at Wheeling. Two men were sick on board, but they had pneumonia.

The steamer B. S. Rhea burst a steam pipe five miles above Madison at 9:30 yesterday morning and went to the bank. The Shirley took her freight and passengers. Emily Farrel, a colored man, unmarried, was severely scalded.

Some new rules for pilots have been made by the Board of Supervising Inspectors, making some changes, the principal one probably being that boats lying in a fog are required to ring a bell when other boats are trying to pass.

EASTER NUMBER!

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR LEGITIMATE ADVERTISING.

THE LEDGER will, on Saturday, April 13th, issue a special "Easter Number."

It will consist of 8 pages, with a page devoted to Easter, embracing a story by Colonel Will L. Vischer, formerly of the Kentucky press and well known throughout Mason and adjoining counties.

This edition will be a trade catcher, and advertisers may depend upon getting what they pay for.

We will see if some of our merchants are as willing to patronize a legitimate home enterprise as they are to jump at every "fake" that comes along.

Mr. Hugh R. Brightwell, fireman on the Lexington Accommodation on the K. C., is able to be out after a severe spell of the grip.

Colonel David S. Trumbo of Bethel, Bath county, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture.

C. Porter Skinner, one of the gentlemanly express messengers on the C. and O., running from Cincinnati to Washington City, laid off yesterday, being a little indisposed.

Miss Jane Goodpaster, a charming young lady of Owingsville who visited recently in this city, has been seriously ill at her home, but is now slowly convalescing.

The many friends of Mrs. Richard Dodson will regret to learn of her death, which occurred at Manassas, Va. Mrs. Dodson had been a resident of Maysville up to a few years ago, and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The remains will be brought here, and the funeral will take place tomorrow morning from the Church of the Nativity.

A Sad Casualty.

The many friends of Chris Hunsicker sincerely condole with him in his sad bereavement in the loss of his beloved friend and companion "Poor Tige," who met his death beneath the wheels of a streetcar Wednesday evening at 8:30.

For a bulldog "Poor Tige" possessed many meritorious qualifications which endeared him to the heart of friend Chris, his valuation, independent of said qualifications, being $50. It is needless to say that Chris is inconsolable, but we beg to remind him that his loss is "Poor Tige's" gain, and that he has doubtless gone to the Cannan of all good dogs, where the Tom cats cease from troubling and the fleas molest no more.

"Poor Tige" has gone, sad was his fate. A dog known near and far, sir. While friskin' round he jumped too late. And was smashed by a bloody car, sir.

D. P. ORT, Chief of Police.
